LJ's LAYERED SALAD:

Spring Mix greens layered in a clear bowl/dish, layer frozen sweet green peas (thawed), layer green pepper, onion, celery (all of which are optional or can be substituted), layer a small can of water chestnuts, layer boiled egg(s). Mix well one cup sour cream, 1 cup mayo (Hellman's), 1 tablespoon sugar. Spread the mixture over the salad. Sprinkle real bacon bits, cheese, and tomato on top. Cover and chill at least three hours or even overnight. 😊 Crisp and refreshing!

I opened my East curtains this morning and saw the bright, rising sun shining on a young cornfield with straight, clean rows in between. How perfect it looked, almost like an aerial view, but you could look straight ahead at it and see it from God's point of view. I thanked the God-given talent of the Farmer(s) that planted that field and wished for them a big, healthy crop. I got such inspiration from the scene. A perfect scene that God could only grant the talent to make and grow, as is every good thing in our lives. Let us pray for our Farmers this growing season. May their crops line our highways and byways like the beautiful art that it is. May it be used to sustain us all and to prosper the farmers so they can keep on feeding the World. Bless the Farmers and keep them forever in our hearts and prayers.

A Word From Your Pastor:

Summer is almost here, well, unofficially, it has started with Memorial Day, and schools letting out for summer break. Vacations are beginning, along with summer ball. I pray that everyone has a safe and enjoyable summer. As the writer of Hebrews reminds us: "24 And let us consider how to provoke one another to love and good deeds, 25 not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day approaching." Lord, help us to continue to love and support one another, to love you, God, and love our neighbors.
